

IELTS Writing 2 : Writing Better Conclusions

Use the introductions to try and write conclusions. You only need to write one or two sentences.

The first one has been done for you.

QUESTION : Practical skills such as how to start a family should be taught in high school. Do you agree or disagree? Give your opinion and real life experiences.

Introduction: It is argued that teenagers should be taught real life skills, such as how to raise a family. This essay agrees that it should be included as part of the curriculum and will discuss why this type of education is necessary to prevent family problems when they are adults.

To write great conclusions all you need to do is restate your introduction in other words. It is always good practice to start your conclusions with words such as in conclusion or to conclude.

Conclusion: In conclusion, this essay supports the idea that juveniles ought to be educated on aspects such as raising a family because it aids in preventing family issues when they are mature.

This essay agrees : this essay supports teenagers : juveniles should : ought to

1. Q: Modern technology has a big impact on our environment. Some say that people should adopt a simple lifestyle to solve this problem, while others argue that technology itself should provide a solution. Discuss both views and give your own opinion.

Introduction: Contemporary advances affect the planet significantly. Although, I understand how important it is to protect the planet, I believe that developing our technology has long term benefits. This essay will first discuss why relying on outdated technology is not feasible, followed by a discussion on why science is necessary for reversing global warming and pollution.

2. Q: The development of tourism contributed to English becoming the most prominent language in the world. Some people think this will lead to English becoming the only language to be spoken globally.

Introduction: It is thought by a number of people that English, which is now the most widely spoken language in the world, may one day be used so extensively that other languages will be wiped out. Having one language would certainly aid in understanding and create more economic growth but there will also be some drawbacks.

3. Q: Many offenders commit more crimes after serving the first punishment. Why is this happening, and what measures can be taken to tackle this problem?

Introduction: A great deal of criminals reoffend after having spent time in prison. This is due to the neglect of the state who have no intention of rehabilitating and reeducating them, which leads to unemployment, hardship and crime. There are a number of solutions which should be implemented to decrease this issue of reoffending criminals.

3. Q: Some people think that money is one of the most essential factors in promoting happiness. Do you think people can be happy without much money? What other factors contribute towards happiness?

Introduction: Money is considered by vast number of people to be one of the most significant factors contributing towards happiness. In my opinion, it is vital for people to have money in order to be happy but other factors also play a role in making people contented.

4. Q: Nowadays, more people are choosing to socialise online rather than face to face. Is this a positive or negative development?

Introduction: Online communication between friends is on the rise, whereas meeting in person is decreasing. In my opinion, this is a negative development which can lead to isolation, psychological issues and harmful relationships.

5. Q: Completing university education is thought by some to be the best way to get a good job. On the other hand, other people think that getting experience and developing soft skills is more important.

Introduction: It is considered by a various amount of people that graduating from a university is the key to securing a quality job, while many others believe that it is better to have experience and soft skills. In my opinion, I believe that having university education is essential for those who want to progress in academic type jobs, while soft skills and experience are more useful to those who desire to be more independent.